Called to a deep, personal Relationship with God in Jesus Christ, the Church Community of St. Pius X, guided by the light of the Holy Spirit is committed to living and sharing our Catholic faith expressed in love.

“After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the additional five. He said, ‘Master, you gave me five talents. See, I have made five more.’”

Pastor's Greeting

On Sunday, November 27, Catholics in the United States will begin worshiping with the newly-translated texts of the third edition of the Roman Missal. The new translation of this third edition of the Roman Missal will sound different from our present translation. For the priests in particular they will have to begin to get used to slightly different cadence when offering the prayers of the Mass. Arguably some of the translations are much richer and some are more challenging. No translation is perfect. Though change is part of our life no one likes it. There is understandably some sadness in letting go of familiar words. But a change in words of how something is expressed does not mean a change in the belief that is expressed. New words indeed can open for us new meanings, new insights into the deep mystery of our faith expressed in our common prayer. Thus, the new Missal offers us an opportunity to look more deeply at the center of our faith, the celebration of the Eucharist, Holy Mass. Certainly, any closer look at this primary source and summit of who we are as disciples of Jesus cannot hurt us but only deepen our commitment to follow Christ.

November Food Drive - During the month of November our parish will collect non-perishable food items for Thanksgiving baskets. We appreciate your assistance with this ministry. Thanks!!

Stewardship: Gospel Mt 25:14-30

Jesus told several parables about people given responsibility for different quantities of talents and the consequences for the recipients who used their talents well in contrast to the recipients who failed to use their talents at all. Jesus seems to act harshly toward the person in the stories who receives the least amount and does nothing with it. The lesson of these stories is not that the people who receive the least amount of talents did not have much to work with. Jesus is teaching us that no matter how much or how little for which God makes us responsible, God expects us to make our best effort to make the most of it. It is not about the amount of the talents. It is about the amount of the effort. A steward is a person who is given the responsibility for the preservation and productivity of the possessions of another. Everything we are and have comes from God. He expects us to be good stewards and make the most of it.
